The Price of Tin and the Troubles of U. S. Empire

An American doesn't think of his country as a great, sprawling world empire, like old Rome or old Britain—but that's what we've become today, and along with the "empire" name we've picked up most of empire's ills.

We have a dispute right now with Bolivia, Southern American republic which is supposed to be our ally, but which at times talks more like a Communist. The trouble with Bolivia is over the price of tin.

Americans use more tin than most of the rest of the world combined—in the canning industry, in plumbing, in the formula for type metal from which these words are printed, and a thousand other uses. Half of all the tin America uses comes from Bolivia, the rest of it from the Far East. Therefore, Bolivia's tin is of the utmost strategic importance in the event of war, and Bolivia's anger disturbs us.

Bolivians put the price of tin up when our Reconstruction Finance corporation started stockpiling it as a military reserve. The RFC quit buying, and the price slid off. Five consecutive cuts have brought it to quotation down to $1.20 a pound—and the Bolivians are talking about diverting their sales to Europe.

The little South American country points out that if tin were permitted the same rise taken by our own basic metal and farm products since 1929 it would now be selling at $1.78 per fine pound.

The Wall Street Journal in an excellent analytical article on June 12 reported primitive conditions among the tin miners of the Bolivian mountains, and a growing threat of Communist seizure of government.

When the American housewife's cans are affected by the working conditions of miners in the Andes mountains, and communist politicians seeking control of a small South American country, it is proof positive that the problems of empire have caught up with that once stout foe of all empires—the U. S. A.

Mrs. Perrin Wins Again

Little Rock, June 15 — (AP) — For the fourth time, Mrs. Gordon Perrin is the woman golf champion of Arkansas.

The veteran linkster from El Dorado soundly trounced Mrs. Dane Harris of Hot Springs, 5 and 4, in the finals of the 1951 state tournament at Riverdale Country club here yesterday. It's her second in a row.

Mrs. Perrin shot a 58 for the 14 holes she needed to win — two under women's par for the tough course. In an exhibition of sharp-shooting, she birdied the fourth, sixth and ninth holes and was one over on the seventh. She had a three-up lead at the end of nine.

A slight drizzle fell during most of the match, but the wetting seemed to improve Mrs. Perrin's game.

"The greens were heavier and slower, like the ones at El Dorado and they were to my liking," said the champion.

But the soggy greens gave Mrs. Harris some trouble. Often her putts stopped short and she said it 10 times farther than I ever thought I would," Mrs. Harris said. "I felt like I had won the National Open just getting into the finals."

Mrs. Perrin won her first state tournament in 1944. She won again in 1947 and last year.

French Elections Termed Important

Washington, June 15 — (AP) — Gen. Omar Bradley said today important decisions in completing the French elections next Sunday.

The chairman of the joint chiefs of staff appeared at a Pentagon news briefing to answer questions about his recent trip to Europe for talks with U. S., British and French military leaders.

He also disclosed that the size of the Western European force in the mutual defense organization is still a troublesome question both here and in Europe.

He was asked about published reports that an Allied committee had recommended a 10-division force for Germany.

"That whole thing is still under discussion," Bradley said.

103-Year-Old Man Quits Job

By The Associated Press
In Butler, Pennsylvania, a fellow with a twinkle in his eye and a spring in his step walked into the Butler Savings and Trust Company and quit his job as a director.

Washington D. Braden said he believed it's about time he stepped aside for a younger man. He's 103 years old.

James Canessa-Fodder, "Napoleon's" "cannon" funder, was reflected in his statement. "I am an old man, and a month ago I was in the hospital."

Allied Patrols Battle Reds in Mountains

Tokyo, June 16 — (AP) — Rear-guard Reds and probing Allied patrols clashed head-on today in scattered battles across the jagged mountains of the east and central fronts in Korea.

The Communists fought desperately to save their escape routes to the north as Allied armored forces thrust toward the new Red fortress city of Kumsong.

Chinese and North Korean main forces continued to fall back along the front ahead of heavy Allied artillery fire.

The U. S. Eighth Army commander warned that another Red offensive is expected. In a front-line interview Lt. Gen. James A. Van Fleet said "the Communists' declared intention is still to throw us into the sea. We do expect a third round of the Chinese spring offensive. The enemy has sufficient enemy reserve units that have not been in contact for some time."

The bloodiest fighting Saturday was north of Inje on the eastern front, and in the wooded hills defending the road to Kumsong.

Kumsong is 12 miles north of Kumhwa on the west central front.

AP Correspondent George McArthur said the Reds northwest of Inje launched two counterattacks during the day. Both were thrown back.

In the same area an allied patrol crashed into a village full of Reds. A short sharp fight followed before the patrol returned to Allied lines.

A pooled dispatch from the west central front said United Nations infantrymen captured a strategic hill overlooking Kumhwa. The Reds fought bitterly to hold the hill only two days ago. Saturday, however, they left only a small delaying force on the ridge line.

In the "iron triangle" area bounded by Chonwon, Kumhwa and Pyonggang, Allied patrol is searched vainly for Red units.

On the sea the United Nations suffered their second setback in three days. The destroyer-minesweeper U. S. S. Thompson was hit by Red shore batteries near Songjin on the northeast coast Thursday. Three men were killed. Twenty-six seamen were killed Tuesday when the Destroyer Walke was rocked by an underwater explosion.

In Korea, the main Chinese and North Korean forces are continuing to fall back along the front, pounded by heavy Allied artillery fire. The Reds fought fierce rear-guard battles across the jagged mountains of the east and central fronts. The sharpest fighting took place north of Inje on the eastern front, and in the wooded hills near Kumsong, on the west central front.

In a front-line interview, Lieutenant General James A. Van Fleet said that he expects the communists to launch another offensive. The eight army commander said the Red's declared intention of still to throw us into the sea.

The Communist radio in north Korea claimed that north Korean pilots shot down seven American planes in air battles today. There have been no reports of battles with enemy planes during the day.

13 Rail Cars Derailed

Athens, Ala., June 16 — (AP) — Thirteen Louisville and Nashville railroad freight cars derailed and toppled down a 14-foot embankment inside the city limits of Athens, Ala., last night. L. N. Superintendent S. S. Adams of Cornersville, Tenn., says the cars left the track when the bearings in a journal box burned out. Traffic is being rerouted around Athens today while the L&N mainline is being cleared of debris.

Miss Truman Leaves Belgium

By The Associated Press
Margaret Truman has wound up her visit to Belgium. As she left the country, the Belgium press hailed her as a friendly and charming young woman and one paper broke into English to call her good-looking Miss Truman is now visiting Luxembourg.

Greeks Having Political Trouble

By The Associated Press
In Athens today, a group of ousted senior Greek officers charged that they have been fired in a move to give politicians control of the armed forces. The 11 men were strong supporters of Field Marshal Alexander Papagos who resigned as Commander-in-chief May 13th. One of the high officers said today "we don't want politicians in the army. In the U. S. there may be 12 MacArthur because it's a big and great nation, but a Papagos cannot be in Greece once every 100 years."

Iran Gives British 48 Hours to Reply

Tehran, Iran, June 15 — (AP) — Prime Minister Mohammed Mossadegh today promised the British an additional 48 hours in which to reply to Iranian demands that all British oil profits here be turned over to Iran.

The promise came as somewhat of a surprise, since Iranian negotiators had been insisting on a definite yes or no answer by Sunday morning. U. S. Ambassador Henry F. Grady had described the situation as crucial, before Premier Mossadegh acted.

The extension — until Tuesday — was granted upon Grady's personal intercession. He appealed to Mossadegh not to wreck the conference by holding to the Sunday ultimatum.

The premier sent back word that he appreciated Grady's neutral position in the critical dispute and would accept his recommendation. Up to then it had appeared the conferences on the future of the billion-dollar Anglo-Iranian Oil company might collapse before they got started.

Kazem Hassibi, undersecretary of the finance ministry and a member of the oil negotiating committee, told reporters last night "we demand a definite answer, yes or no, on Sunday morning to our requirement that the AIOC (Anglo-Iranian oil company) negotiating team instruct the company to pay us its profits from its oil sale."

Hassibi declared that unless the British agree to the conditions, there will be no further talks and the negotiators "might as well go home."

He added that the delay in the talks from last Thursday until tomorrow is giving the Britons "enough time" and that the Iranian delegation cannot wait any longer.

Connecting on the Iranian ultimatum, Grady said "I don't see why there is need for this great hurry." He warned that a breakdown in negotiations at this point "could lead to chaos."

The American envoy has adopted the role of mediator in the dispute. Iran demands — as a condition for continuing the talks — that the billion-dollar AIOC turn over 75 per cent of its profits and deposits the other 25 per cent from which to meet its ultimate claims for compensation.

Reflecting the toughened Iranian attitude, a crowd of 10,000 demonstrators massed in parliament square yesterday. They demanded "final eviction" of the AIOC and urged Mossadegh to complete his oil nationalization program.

By The Associated Press
Iran has given the British an additional 48 hours, until Tuesday that is—to reply to Iranian demands for all British oil profits.

Premier Mohammed Mossadegh granted the time extension after American ambassador Henry F. Grady personally interceded. Grady appealed to Mossadegh not to wreck negotiations holding to the Sunday ultimatum.

The premier sent back word that he appreciated Grady's neutral position in the crucial oil dispute and would accept his recommendation. Up to that point it had appeared that the conferences on the future of the billion-dollar Anglo-Iranian oil company might collapse before they started.

In London, a foreign office spokesman has indicated that Britain will reject Iran's terms for turning over the oil profits. The spokesman called the Iranian proposal "holding a pistol to our heads."

Man Bludgeoned to Death

Louisville, Ky. — A man whose body was found in a Louisville alley today may have been a Nashvillian. Police discovered the bludgeoned body shortly before daylight. It was blocking passage through an alley in downtown Louisville.

The man was identified tentatively as 51-year-old Robert G. Marable of Nashville. A wallet, found lying beside the body, was empty of money but contained papers which pointed to that identity. The wallet also contained a picture, clipped from a newspaper, of Constable Jim Marable of Nashville.

Constable Jim Marable, constable Marable said he has no doubt that the man was his brother. The constable was in Louisville today to make positive identification.

Memphis Deathless Days Ended

Memphis April 15. — A speeding police squad car struck and killed a pedestrian today in Memphis, ending the city's traffic record of deathless days at 62.

The victim was identified as Ernest Colbert, a 58-year-old negro. Police said the man was hit when he ran into the street in front of a squad car that was cashing a speed motorist.

Ironically, the police department was leading a citywide campaign to stretch the number of days without a traffic fatality to 100.

The 62-day span of days without a traffic death was the longest in 10 years for the city of Memphis. The death was number 17 for the city this year, compared with 23 at this time in 1950.

SUED FOR ALIMONY

Czechs Admit Planes Crashed

By The Associated Press

Dispatches from Prague say the Czech government has confirmed that the two missing American aircraft jet fighters have landed in Czechoslovakia. The planes have been missing from their German base since June 7th. The pilots are said to be well and happy. There is no indication where or why the planes landed in Czechoslovakia.

Fire Sweeps Apartment

Chattanooga, June 16 — Fire swept through an apartment building in Chattanooga this morning, and two women were burned, one seriously. At least 12 other persons narrowly escaped injury when the blaze spread to nine units of the Warwick Apartment building. Five persons were rescued when a stairway in the three-story building was blocked by the flames. The rescued included the wife and son of a fireman who was fighting the blaze.

44-year-old Mrs. Elia Setiner was hospitalized with first, second, and third degree burns. The other injured woman is 50-year-old Mrs. Zula Lewis.

Firemen estimated the damage to the building at $25,000. The cause of the fire was not immediately apparent.

Republicans to Continue Rent Fight

Washington, June 16 — (AP) — Republican senators who lost a committee fight to boost rent ceilings 37 per cent said today they will carry the campaign to the floor of the senate.

The senate banking committee yesterday gave president Truman's anti-inflation program a boost by approving a bill to prolong and widen existing rent controls. New "critical defense areas" would be brought under the controls.

At the same time, the committee rejected a Republican-sponsored move to permit increases of up to 37 per cent in "base period" rent ceilings.

Instead, the committee voted nine-to-four to limit the rent increases to 20 per cent above base period levels. The base periods the date on which each of some 300 areas came under federal rent controls.

Prevailing 1942 levels were used in fixing most base period rent controls.

Republican efforts to increase the 20 per cent ceiling on rent increases are being led by Senator Bricker (R-Ohio). He proposed the 37 per cent ceiling.

Senator Capewell (R-Ind.), also told reporters the 20 per cent ceiling was not high enough.

"We feel the landlord should get a break, too," he declared.

Senator Moody (D-Mich.) said most committee Democrats oppose higher rent increases as inflationary. He told reporters the 20 per cent formula "is more equitable."

Federal housing spokesmen said that most of the nation's 300,000 areas already have got ceiling increases averaging about 15 per cent above base periods.

Thus, under the new bill, most tenants would have to pay only about five per cent more for rent. Landlords might win above ceiling rent raises in special "hardship" cases.

The Republican demands probably will get an airing on the senate floor when the committee's rent bill comes to a vote. This is expected within the next two weeks.

Watermelon Crop Looking Good Growers Indicate

The watermelon crop in Hempstead county looks exceptionally good, aided by five inches of badly needed rainfall during the first week of June. It was a good prospect prior to the rain as the dry weather had begun to be felt.

Insects are not bothering the vines too much. In fact the biggest trouble right now is the nightly wind that is rolling the vines and knocking off some of the small melons. Most growers peg their vines.

Of course melons are much like cotton, they need hot nights but have to have moisture more often. Even in a bad year Hempstead has melons. The soil is the better suited here for growing melons than anywhere.

It is difficult to estimate the number of melons produced in Hempstead in any one year. The general agricultural estimate for Arkansas varies from year to year, from 250 to 300 melons per acre. It is not a bit unusual to produce 300 melons per acre here, depending mainly on the weather.

An unofficial estimate this year gives Hempstead 1,200 acres of melons. At 300 melons per acre this would show the county producing some 360,000 melons in 1951. Of course, it must be kept in mind that marketing melons here range from 20 pounds up to 185, the largest ever grown.

Dope Racket Brings Action

Louisville, Ky., June 16 — (AP) — Crackdown of the dope racket in large cities after the nation caused Louisville police chief Carl Heustis to call a conference of federal and local officers yesterday. Here are some of the highlights of information coming out of the conference.

The Federal Narcotics Bureau in Louisville says there has been no increase recently in the number of cases of dope arrests in Louisville. There were 1,100 arrests by Federal Narcotics Agents in Kentucky and Tennessee last year. At Fort Campbell, military police have been reported since the first of this year.

Military police at Fort Campbell say they believe the marijuana was obtained from sources at Fort Campbell. The source of the marijuana was not immediately apparent.

Second Paving Payments Are Now Due

Charles Heynerson, Collector for Street Improvement District No. 16 in the Fair Park area announced that the second annual payment of the paving assessment was payable in his office on or before July 10, 1951. An official announcement appears elsewhere in this paper today.

Persons who paid in full in 1950 should disregard this notice and those who desire to pay in full this year can do so and save future interest payments. This district is being operated on the same five year plan that all of the newly organized districts in the City of Hope are organized under. Charles Harrell, Corbin Foster, and Ansley Gilbert are the Commissioners of the District and Welsensberger & Wilson are the attorneys.

Shipping Tied Up by Harbor Disputes

By The Associated Press

Labor disputes have tied up American shipping along the three major seaboard. The Maritime work stoppage got underway at midnight last night with the expiration of contracts between shippers and three unions—the National Maritime Union, The American Radio Maritime Association and The National Maritime Engineers Beneficial Association, all C. I. O.

Only officials of the Radio union at San Francisco spoke frankly of a strike. Officers of the other unions said merely that their members don't sail ships without contracts. Ships bearing essential military cargo, however, have been exempted from the stoppage. Negotiations in the disputes appear unlikely to resume before Monday.

Moscow Still Wants to Meet

Moscow, June 16 — (AP) — The Moscow press today repeated Soviet demands that the Atlantic pact and American bases in Europe be on the agenda of any meeting of the Big Four foreign ministers.

Reporting a move by the Western powers yesterday to let the ministers themselves decide when they got together whether to discuss that question, the papers said this was "no solution to trying to arrange a foreign ministers meeting."

The question has been hampering the ministers' deputies who have been parleying in Paris trying to arrange an agenda for their chiefs.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko's reaction that the west's proposal did "not" improve the prospect of an agreement on the agenda was widely reported.

(The Soviet government has insisted that inclusion of the item be a pre-condition of its acceptance to the conference which the West suggested convene in Washington July 27.)

Rain Lashes Most of State

By The Associated Press
There were some wet spots in the central part of the country today but it was fair weather in other areas.

Rain fell along the Mississippi river and to the west and south west, mostly through Iowa, Missouri, Oklahoma and north Texas. Showers were reported in eastern Maine.

Temperatures generally were around normal levels in most areas. However, the hot spell continued in the far Southwest, with readings about 100 again yesterday.

Formative winds whipped across areas in west Texas and north west Missouri last night, but no injuries were reported.

A tornado and violent thunderstorm struck the St. Joseph area. Some sections of St. Joseph were without electric power for hours. One home and some farm buildings were wrecked near Easton, 10 miles east of St. Joseph. The storm hit Marika, a small west Texas town, wrecking buildings, uprooting houses and knocking down telephone poles.

WEATHER FORECAST

Arkansas: Scattered thunder showers this afternoon, tonight, Saturday. No important temperature changes.

A search for possible sabotage following an explosion in a Pittsburgh Pennsylvania steel mill about 5 days ago led a Federal Bureau of Investigation representative to the W. M. Duckett Salvage yard in Hope this morning.

Sheriff Claude Sutton, Chief of Police Clarence Baker and an FBI representative made a search of the yard this morning and discovered the yard this morning and discovered scraps of similar explosives, one of which was definitely loaded with TNT.

The explosion was in a U. S. Steel Company furnace in Pittsburgh. The FBI investigation revealed the blast was caused by a detonator or shell which had been shipped from the Duckett Salvage yard of Hope.

Questioned at length by officials this morning Mr. Duckett readily admitted shipping the car and that it contained scrap shells. In fact about 3 tons of them, from the Southwestern Proving Ground near here. He told officers he had been buying and shipping them for several years.

In a check of the scrap yards this morning with demolition expert M. E. Cooper and George Stitt of Camp Chaffee, a 81 mm. mortar shell loaded with TNT was found. Several other "possible live shells and pieces were in custody by the demolition experts.

The local scrap dealer was formed that nobody had a good idea of the source of the shells unless they had first been by demolition crews.

Apparently the only info. FBI has in the case at this time is to check the source of the explosion for possible sabotage plant in which it occurred. The materials for the army.

Local authorities have not asked what action, if any, they plan to take although Mr. Stitt, who has an ordinance against shells and other similar explosive material within the city limits.

Mr. Duckett told officers that men always looked after the shells in the ground and down any shells that he had to bring them out of the ground.

From the demolition experts, Mr. Duckett learned that the shells were not of the type that would be used in a demolition job. They were of the type that would be used in a military job.

One individual, possibly a local scrap dealer, was mentioned in the report as having been in the area of the explosion. He was not identified.

The entire area around the explosion was searched for shells. The search was not successful.

New, Improved
Jets Rolling
Off the Line

Pattingdale, N. Y. June 15 — Jet fighter craft capable of being refueled in flight by tanker planes are rolling off the production line in undisciplined numbers by Republic Aviation corps operation here.

The manufacturing plant made the production announcement yesterday and said it heralds a new era of increased flexibility and mobility for U. S. airforce fighter-type craft.

Complete fighter plane groups now can be moved quickly from one part of the earth to another, Republic said.

They can strike deeper into enemy territory or they can hover "on call" for longer periods over battle areas, ready to blast enemy targets.

The new plane has been designated the F-84G and has been in production for several months. It is a sister ship of the F-84E jet now in service in Korea, Europe and the United States. But the "G," Republic said, has a longer range and faster climb and is more easily maintained than the "E."

Republic said the new plane can be refueled in flight within 150 seconds.

Fuel passes from the tanker craft to the fighter plane at the rate of several hundred gallons per minute.

The refueling is directed by an operator in the tail of the tanker plane. HE operates a telescoping nozzle boom which is guided into the wing receptacle of the jet fighter.

Fuel flows automatically after the boom-nozzle engages the wing receptacle of the fighter.

TV of Fight
Proves to Be Successful

By the Associated Press (NY) The exclusive television showing in movie theaters of the Joe Louis-Lee Savold heavyweight bout last night proved to be a successful attraction.

Nine motion picture houses in six cities were filled to overflowing as the fight came on a local circuit direct from ringside in Madison Square garden. There was no telecast for home viewing.

The movie-TV was shown in Baltimore, Washington, Chicago, Pittsburgh, Cleveland, and Al and Baltimore had two theaters each. N. Y. Washington, Chicago and Baltimore had two theaters showing the bout.

Theater managers reported combined audiences of more than 22,000, with thousands turned away. The garden's attendance was announced at 18,170.

The movie fight fans paid less Garden admissions ranged from $2.50 to $20 at ringside. Movie prices ranged from 4 cents to $1.50.

Movie patrons also were offered regular featured films at all houses except Shea's Fulton theater in Pittsburgh — which charged the $1.50 top.

The Fulton used an 18 by 20-foot screen and estimated that 25 per cent of its patrons were women. The house holds 1,700 persons.

Theater managers almost unanimously were enthusiastic about the first major experiment in showing a big fight to a film audience via television.

All theaters had capacity audiences. But at 40 cents a head for the promoters, the theater-east brought them only $8,000. However, promoters hope for heavy revenue from this idea in the future.

In Baltimore, the Loew's Century, which holds 3,100 had several hundred standees. The theater charged its regular 75-cent admission price and handed out reaction cards. Two cards said: "Perfect and clear and I was sitting at the top of the balcony."

"I'll pay to see these fights or any other event at any time."

The Century's manager, Joseph G. Smart, said, "we were very well pleased with the audience reaction, the business and the screen projection."

The word "argosy" comes from "argos," which referred to ships from Ragusa, a famous port in the Adriatic Sea but now the town of Dubrovnik on the Yugoslavian coast.

CHEATS DEATH IN CRASH — Capt. Brice Long, looking over his wrecked plane at Straughn, Ind., was one of five pilots who escaped death when eight F-84 Thunderjet fighter planes crashed in the vicinity of Richmond, Ind. Captain Long, who crash-landed his plane 17 miles west of Richmond, said he had safely ridden out an electrical storm when "my engine exploded." Air Force and FBI agents are checking for possible sabotage. (NEA Telephoto)

DOROTHY DIX

Consider the Child

Dear Miss Dix: I, a married woman, am in love with a married man, the father of two children. We have planned to divorce our mates and marry each other, but he feels that he should not leave his children. He and his wife do not love each other, but still he is willing to give up his chance for happiness because of these children. Do you think we should give up our lives and happiness because of them? Are we supposed to listen to our hearts or our minds? Isn't happiness what counts in married life and in a home? What shall we do, suffer for two children or listen to our hearts and start anew?

LUCY

Answer: Certainly nothing will be lost if you get a divorce! Your husband will be well rid of a selfish, conscienceless woman.

Your Plan is Shocking

Should you listen to your hearts, or your minds? I doubt if you have either a heart or a mind. The spaces they should occupy in the human soul are completely occupied, with in you, by a huge, contemptible ego. I am glad to see that, at least you haven't yet succeeded in foisting your lack of principle upon your paramour. He doesn't seem to have much backbone, but some glimmer of duty manages to penetrate his love-sick brain.

More sins are committed in the guise of this "happiest first" heaven than will ever be condoned in heaven, but the worst is the abandonment of innocent children by a parent who blithely tosses responsibilities aside and makes straight for the arms of another love.

It certainly isn't "happiest" they're seeking; their only desire is self-indulgence. Happiness is a gift that has to be earned; it is never attained by shirking responsibility, breaking up a home and depriving youngsters of a father or mother. Once a new soul has been brought into the world, parents are bound in conscience to make its upbringing their first consideration even in conscience to parents.

Oklahoma
Leading in NCAA Meet

Omaha, June 16 — (AP) — Oklahoma's baseball team, which plays the game as though it weren't a collegiate minor sport, today had an inside track on the NCAA baseball championship.

The Sooners defeated Southern California 1 to 1 last night to remain the only undefeated team in the double elimination tourney here and win a berth in tomorrow night's tourney finals.

It was the first defeat for the Trojans from USC. They will be back tonight to meet the winner of an afternoon game between Tennessee and Utah.

Tonight's swimmer tackles Oklahoma in the finals.

Tennessee yesterday shut out Springfield (Mass.) college 2 to 0 and Utah, paced by Fave Cunningham who hit two homers, out-slugged Texas a. & M. 15 to 8. Springfield and the Texas Aggies, each once beaten, were eliminated. The odds ride with the Sooners in several ways. First, they have today to rest. Second, should they lose to whichever of the once-beaten teams survive today's play an extra game between the same two teams will have to be played on Monday to determine the champion.

At the same time, Southern California is a good bet to meet the Sooners in tomorrow night's game. The team they play tonight will be one which has already played one game today while the Trojans will be fresh.

operation. Stick to your plans, and to your way of life as you see it. When she realizes that you just won't quit another job for her, she'll wait. Good husbands don't grow on trees and when your wife sees the futility of trying to change you, she'll be glad to take what you offer.

Dear Miss Dix: I am a girl 16 married to a boy who has just been called into service. He wants me to stay with his mother, but I don't think we'd get along too well. What shall I do?

EMMA

Answer: At 16 you're too young to be married, much less to be living alone while your husband is overseas. If you have a family of your own, your place is with them, but if you have no relatives you'd better follow your husband's wishes and stay with his mother. Remember to her you are just a child and will be treated accordingly but there's no reason why you can't get along until your husband is able to provide a home for you.

Tmat was last Sept. 5 near Yongsan, Korea. Sgt. Kaufman was killed in another action six months later.

The nation's highest military medal will be given to his father, D. A. Kaufman of Portland, Ore., at the Pentagon June 21.

Pirates Swap Two Players

Pittsburgh, June 15 — (AP) — The Pittsburgh Pirates, desperately trying to get out of the National League cellar, today swapped Third Pitcher Cliff Chambers to the St. Louis Cardinals for five players. In exchange for the slugging Westlake, who has 18 homers, and Chambers the Pirates got these players from the Cards: Pitcher Howie Pollet, Catcher Joe Garagiola, Outfielder Bill Howerton, Relief Pitcher Ted Wills, and Rookie Shortstop Dick Cole.

Legionnaires Lose to Flyers by 4-1 Count

Mineral Springs scored two runs in the first inning on Crawford's homer to take a 2-0 lead that was never seriously threatened last night at Fair Park as the Hope Legionnaires went down 4 to 1. Bub Diddy was the winning hurler and limited the locals to six fairly scattered hits. Delvin Ross singled in the only Hope run in the bottom of the 9th.

"MOUNTAIN CLEANERS" AT WORK—Working in much the same manner as our city window-cleaners—except with hammers—these "mountain cleaners" at Salisbury, Austria, work over the sides of sheer cliffs above the town. ## SPORTS ROUNDUP

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.

Birmingham, Mich., June 15 — (AP) — When Lew Worsham, the guy with the jutting chin and toothy smile, won the open golf championship in 1947, they said it was a fluke. He hadn't done much before and he proceeded to support such statements by doing nothing the next couple of years on the tournament trail. But today's fluke of the 51st open finds a plumper, more assured Worsham as the former champion who has the best chance of winning again. At 147, he's only three strokes off Bobby Locke's pace — plenty the way Locke has been playing. But Ben Hogan and Cary Middecoff are two strokes further behind; Craig Wood surprisingly has 18 and Gene Sarazen (of all champs) is close up with 15.

There's No Answer

Tall, scrawny Dave Douglas, another threat to the open lead, is another who has a hard time explaining those changes in form. He was one of two players to equal par yesterday, taking over second spot just one stroke behind Locke. He looked puzzled trying to tell about it. Said Dave: "I was shooting in the 80's in practice. I haven't been hitting the ball well lately. I wasn't hitting it, nor on the front side today. It's something that comes and goes; you can't tell why." Douglas, named by his grandfather who still lives in Scotland, must come by his ability naturally. He says he doesn't remember ever starting to play golf he's always done it. "I guess you'd say I've had a golf club in my hands for 33 years," he adds. Dave was 33 on New Year's day. And if it comes to a playoff for the title, you can count on Douglas. On the tournament circuit since 1947, he has won three important events. Two were in man-to-man conflict. At Orlando, Fla., in 1947 he defeated Jimmy Demaret on the 18th hole of a playoff after Herbie Keiser had gone out on the 10th. In the 1949 Texas Open Dave and Sammy Snead were tied going into the last two rounds and were paired together. Sammy shot for a 29 total. Dave came through with 25 and 28.

Persistence Pays

The best reward Lew 95 his open victory was a job at Pittsburgh's celebrated Oakmont club, where the PGA tournament will be played this month. Maybe that accounts for his comeback. It's a notoriously difficult course and anybody who can score there should be able to play anywhere. "I didn't play very well for a couple of years after winning the open," Lew admitted, "and I haven't won much in the past few seasons. I don't know what made the difference. I just kept on trying an eventually I got to hitting them better. At the end of the winter tour I was thick-leading money winner."

Like of Lump 15

Little Paul Runyan, who fired

whereupon he gave a surprised yelp and dumped her down. They stood breathing hard at each other. "What came over you?"

She faltered and said weakly, "I'm sorry, but you knew I was married."

He laughed unpleasantly. "What has that to do with it?"

"A great deal." She didn't know whether she was embarrassed because of sounding moral, or because she hadn't sounded moral soon enough.

"The bathroom's beyond the door," he said formally, "if you want to fix your makeup."

She had a confused feeling that under the circumstances, it wouldn't be cricket to use a man's bedroom mirror and bathroom. "No, I have to hurry."

Contrary to all the tenets of Beautiful-You she marched out with her back turned full blast on her host.

BUT after she'd ridden a few blocks in a cab, she began to wonder if she looked disheveled. Naturally, she intended to tell Arthur the man meant nothing to her, and that there'd never been anything between them and never could be, but if she walked in looking all pained, it might give Arthur the wrong idea. She asked the driver if he could stop at the Lexington entrance of Grand Central.

"Not allowed to park there," the driver droned.

"Oh." She told him to go straight down to Tenth, then got out her compact and tried to redo her mouth. She felt messy inside and out. If only Arthur could be late, just this once, she thought.

Gretel let her in, and Lucilla looked eagerly over the maid's shoulder into the living room. "Mr. Webb called and said he won't be home for dinner."

Lucilla's first reaction was annoyance; she'd only prayed for ten minutes' postponement, and now she'd even have time to kill. "Did he say how late he'd be working?"

"He didn't say he was working," Gretel announced, with sly satisfaction. "He just said he wouldn't be home for dinner."

At 11, she still wasn't home.

Monroe Backs Into Cotton Loop Lead

by United Press
Monroe backed into the Cotton States league lead last night, thanks to Greenwood which handed El Dorado a double pass. Hot Springs edged Monroe 2 to 1, but Greenwood won both games of a doubleheader from El Dorado 7 to 3 and 5 to 2 to drop the Oilers a game behind Monroe.

In other games, Vine Bluff dealt Natchez a double defeat 4 to 1 and 10 to 7 and last place Greenville whipped Clarkdale 8 to 4. John Brumby topped Monroe, The Balmers shoved over the winning run in the fifth. Darvin Chico was the loser, giving up eight hits.

Two good pitching jobs, a five hitter by Crawford in the first game and a four hitter by Ira Moxley in the second tilt, paved the way for Greenwood's victories over El Dorado. Greenwood won the first game with four runs in the ninth inning and a four run second inning was the big rally of the second game.

Heuser for Natchez and Waugh for Pine Bluff both tossed three-hit ball in the first game of a doubleheader but three errors by Natchez cost Heuser the game. Pine Bluff scored three times in the third. In the second game, ex-Greenville pushed over four runs in the second inning and Clarkdale could never catch up. Johnston and Liberton combined on a three hit game for Greenville while Saviano of Clarkdale was nipped for 11 hits.

Tonight's games
El Dorado at Clarkdale
Greenville at Greenwood
Hot Springs at Natchez
Pine Bluff at Monroe.
